

Your Five Senses

Corresponds to QuickReads Level A, book 1,
Life Science, Your Five Senses

©2013 by Jim D at Flickr. Some rights reserved. <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/2.0/>

©2007 by Jonf728 at Flickr. Some rights reserved. <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/2.0/>

Beautiful (beau·ti·ful)

People enjoy beautiful things with their five senses. Beautiful things are pleasurable and make people happy. Not everyone thinks that the same things are beautiful.

Sense (sense)

Our senses allow us to collect information about the world. We hear, see, taste, smell, and feel.

Enjoy (en·joy)

Picture (pic·ture)

Our sense of sight helps us see beautiful pictures and take beautiful pictures.

©2006 by Jacob Hass at Flickr. Some rights reserved. <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nd/2.0/>

©2011 by Juan Rubiano at Flickr. Some rights reserved. <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-nd/2.0/>

Taste

(taste)

Taste is one of our five senses. We taste the things we eat. After cooking a meal, we eat and taste the food we have cooked.

Cooking

(cooking)

Glasses
(glass·es)

Sight (sight)

One of our five senses is our sense of sight. We see with our eyes. Some people need glasses to help them see better.

Light Switch

(light switch)

©2012 by sdoobie at Flickr. Some rights reserved. <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc/2.0/>

©2006 by Vincent Ma at Flickr. Some rights reserved. <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-sa/2.0/>

Rainbow

(rain·bow)

Themselves (them·selves)

The word themselves is used by people to describe their own self, or the characteristics that describe who they are as a person.

The word themselves is also used by people to describe animals and objects/things. Themselves is plural for themselves.

Examples:

The sisters were themselves when they smiled at the camera for a picture.

The two tigers played by themselves in the jungle.

The shoes themselves caused the man to trip and fall.