Professional Learning Community Video: Discussion Guide

Topic: What the Science of Reading is... and What it is Not

What is the science of reading?

What are two things that the science of reading is not?

Name two important considerations to remember about a scope and sequence?

Name pre-reading tactics that detract from the words on the page. As you think about your instruction before, during and after reading, are there any strategies that take away from students interacting with the text?

What new learning can you utilize in your own teaching practice?
