A Correlation of myPerspectives ©2017, Grade 12 to the AP® English Language and Composition Exam

Introduction

This document demonstrates how myPerspectives™ English Language Arts meets the objectives of the AP® English Language and Composition Exam. Correlation page references are to the Student Edition and Teacher’s Edition and are cited by selection or feature title.

myPerspectives™ English Language Arts is a learning environment that focuses on a connected approach to student learning. Students read texts and engage in activities that inspire thoughtful conversation, discussion, and debate.

Students will encounter authors’ perspectives as they read literature from across time periods and cultures. Students will listen to the perspectives of their peers through conversations and collaborative activities. And, as students read the literature and engage in activities in myPerspectives, they will formulate—and defend—their opinions as they develop their own perspectives.

In each unit of study, students will read classic and contemporary fiction and nonfiction texts, and view/listen to media selections, all related to an Essential Question. Students will use technology to interact with texts and activities, and they can write directly in their Student Edition to make interaction with texts more meaningful.

Write for a variety of purposes. Students’ writing experiences in the course must exceed the timed writings that are assessed on the AP English Language and Composition Exam. For instance, students might undertake a lengthy and intensive inquiry into a problem or controversy, consulting and evaluating arguments and viewpoints presented in a variety of sources, and using those sources to provoke, complicate, and/or support their own responses to the problem or controversy. Students’ writing in the course should also go through a process that includes feedback from other readers, revision, and proofreading. Finally, forms other than the essays featured in the exam have a place in the course, such as personal narrative, letters, advertisements, reviews, etc.	SE/TE: Argumentative Writing: Write an Argument, 62–69, 360–367; Performance-Based Assessment: Write an Argument, 108–109, 408–409; Writing to Sources: Response to Criticism, 158; Writing: Argument, 197; Resources Tool Kit: Argument, R8–R13 Informative/ Explanatory Writing: Performance Task: Write an Explanatory Essay, 166–173; Write an Informative Essay, 718–725 Performance-Based Assessment: Write an Explanatory Essay, 232–233; Write an Informative Essay, 792–793; Writing to Compare, 60–61, 94–95, 164–165, 358–359, 458–459, 488–489, 582–583, 662–663, 716–717, 742–743; Writing to Sources: Comparison-and-Contrast Essay, 48; Critical Analysis, 99; Formal Analysis, 767; Writing to Compare: Research Report, 583; Comparison-and-Contrast Essay, 717; Writer’s Guidelines, 743; Resources Tool Kit: Informative/Explanatory, R14–R19 Narrative Writing: Performance Task: Write a Reflective Narrative, 460–467; Performance-Based Assessment: Write a Reflective Narrative, 534–535; Writing to Sources: Personal Narrative, 602; Resources Tool Kit: Narrative, R20–R25

Create and sustain original arguments based on information synthesized from readings, research, and/or personal observation and experience. Students learn to see argument as addressing a wide range of purposes in a variety of formats.
