Introduction

This document demonstrates how ReadyGEN, ©2016 meets the EQUIP Rubric for Lessons & Units: ELA/Literacy. Correlation page references are to the Unit Module Teacher's Guides and are cited by grade, unit and page references.

ReadyGEN ©2016 is a K-6 integrated literacy curriculum that equips students and teachers with the tools to meet heightened literacy expectations. Authentic, rigorous text sets actively engage students, and a complete array of print and digital resources provide teachers with the support and flexibility they need.

AUTHENTIC TEXT AT THE CORE OF INSTRUCTION

- Puts a library of 12 authentic trade books in the hands of every child.

BUILT WITH THE RESULTS IN MIND

- Back-mapped for success to ensure that activities are driven by rigorous standards.

BROADENS ACCESSIBILITY TO COMPLEX TEXTS AND TASKS

- Point-of-use scaffolds, strategic support, and individualized intervention accelerates learning for all.

I. Alignment to the Depth of the CCSS
The lesson/unit aligns with the letter and spirit of the CCSS:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Targets a set of K-2 ELA/Literacy CCSS for teaching and learning. 	ReadyGEN provides a strong foundation with resources to address the instructional shifts of the Common Core Standards. The ReadyGEN program has been created to show how the materials address the Common Core State Standards for each grade with an overall progression of complexity of text, within and across grades, that facilitates students' learning of academic vocabulary, Close Read and foundational skills, and further deepens content knowledge and comprehension. The basis of ReadyGEN is a reciprocity between reading and writing, both of which are grounded in evidence, to promote student thinking and discourse as defined by the Reading, Writing, Speaking, and Listening standards. The program is carefully designed and constructed around excellent informational texts and literature to help students master the concepts they need to succeed in school and beyond. Each grade level focuses on teaching and learning the grade-level CCSS skills in meaningful content and quality context with grade-appropriate instructional methods. From the printed books to the online resources, students and teachers can choose from a wide variety of materials as they develop the important reading, writing, listening, and speaking concepts.

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Includes a clear and explicit purpose for instruction. 	The ReadyGEN selections were chosen for their interesting content for each unit topic and because they are high-quality selections written by trade book authors. Grade 2 examples include: the Caldecott Honor Book and ALA Notable Children’s Book, A Chair for My Mother, by Vera B. Williams, the well-known, I Wanna Iguana, by Karen Kaufman Orloff, Paul Mason’s 68 Ways to Save the Planet Before Bedtime, and The Earth Dragon Awakes by award-winning author Laurence Yep. Students engage in several close readings and discussions of each full-length and shorter authentic text. Every unit begins with a Reading Instructional Focus and Writing Instructional Focus. The Close Read sections connect to the focus by asking questions for every anchor text and supporting text. At least one question guides students to use By-the-Way Words and vocabulary routines to demonstrate and extend understanding. At least one question directs students to a discussion of the key ideas and details in a text. In addition, other Close Read questions ask students to reread or refer to portions of the text. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • See the following Planner pages: Grade 2 Teacher’s Guide Units 1–6 Module A pages 8–9; Units 1–6 Module B pages 158–159. • See Close Read sections that direct students to examine vocabulary: Grade 2 Teacher’s Guide Unit 1 Module A Lesson 1 page 13, Unit 3 Module A Lesson 4 page 43, Unit 6 Module A Lesson 1 page 13; Unit 1 Module B Lesson 8 page 233, Unit 3 Module B Lesson 10 page 253, Unit 6 Module B Lesson 9 page 243. • See Close Read sections that direct students to the text: See Grade 2 Teacher’s Guide Unit 1 Module A Lesson 3 page 33, Unit 3 Module A Lesson 4 page 43, Unit 6 Module A Lesson 10 page 103; Unit 1 Module B Lesson 4, page 203, Unit 3 Module B Lesson 2 page 203, Unit 6 Module B Lesson 4 page 193.

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Selects quality text(s) that align with the requirements outlined in the standards, presents characteristics similar to CCSS K-2 exemplars (Appendix B), and are of sufficient scope for the stated purpose. 	The ReadyGEN texts were selected to engage students in rich, complex text and ideas in order to advance the vocabulary, concept development, and syntax needed for strong reciprocal writing. A hallmark of the ReadyGEN program is its integration of reading and writing using text-based approaches to comprehension that blends vocabulary, speaking, and listening skills. The program’s flexible structure meets the rigor of the standards, but allows teachers to personalize instruction. Rigor increases over the course of the year along with student autonomy. The multi-text model is strong, guiding students to become adept at forming strong arguments and citing text evidence to support opinions in discussions and writing about texts. The ReadyGEN embedded standard of rigor for all is due in part to the influence of program author’s, Sharon Vaughn, Pam Allyn, Elfrieda H. Hiebert, and P. David Pearson. Challenging and engaging texts are combined with rigorous yet supported activities for all learners. What also sets ReadyGEN apart is the Generative Vocabulary Instruction authored by Elfrieda H. Hiebert and P. David Pearson. With more complex texts, students need to be able to generate the meaning of unfamiliar words, or apply knowledge of how words work when encountering new words. Generative words are taught as networks of words, not just single words, allowing students to see the functions of words and make connections among words. With rigor being a widely validated component of motivation, ReadyGEN provides multiple means and ample opportunity to open up access to grade-level content and beyond for all levels of learners in both whole and small groups.

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Emphasize the explicit, systematic development of foundational literacy skills (concepts of print, phonological awareness, the alphabetic principle, high frequency sight words, and phonics). 	The ReadyGEN Grade 2 lessons offer components that take into account students' need for explicit, systematic building of foundational literacy skills. The Foundational Skills section within the Teacher's Guide provides phonics instruction that is supported by a collection of readers and interactive tools. Designed for Whole and Small Groups, mini-lessons teach students letter recognition, phonological awareness, and phonics; and follow a traditional Phonics Scope and Sequence. Manipulatives, Student Readers, and Decodable Practice Readers follow this scope and sequence. In addition, Foundational Skills Mini-Lessons at the beginning of each lesson reinforce the focused skills for the lesson. Language Routines and Activities in the Scaffolded Strategies Handbook offer tips for word-level instruction on High-Frequency Words to Word Study. Language Analysis sections in the Teacher's Guide help students to focus on word-level meaning while making connections that build on students' vocabulary foundations. The routine introduces the text and focuses students on understanding the main ideas in the text. The Close Read sections have students examine the text closely through analyzing By-the-Way Words and questions that guide students to Key Ideas and Details and Integration of Knowledge to extend the interpretation of the text using higher-level thinking skills. The Text-Based Discussion questions use discussion routines to direct students to discuss a deeper meaning of a section of the text. • Balance of Texts: Focus instruction equally on literary and informational texts as stipulated in the CCSS (p.5) and indicated by instructional time (may be more applicable across a year or several units).	All of the selections in ReadyGEN are of high quality and fall within the prescribed grade level complexity bands described in Appendix A of the Common Core State Standards. An equal balance of literature and informational texts appear in the anchor texts, supporting texts, and in all the related Trade Books, the Leveled Text Library, and Decodable Readers. For each module, ReadyGEN offers an anchor text and two shorter supporting texts on the same or related topic or concept. A rich variety of literary and informational texts were chosen for these selections. Most anchor texts and supporting texts are published works, excerpts from published books, or original selections created by well-known, grade-level appropriate authors. The program's ReadyGEN Sleuth selections include fiction and nonfiction selections. Each Sleuth selection is two pages with text, illustrations, and text-based questions. A ReadyGEN Sleuth selection is included in each module with a balance of literature and informational texts.
• Balance of Writing: Include prominent and varied writing opportunities for students that balance communicating thinking and answering questions with self-expression and exploration.	Daily writing instruction is an integral part of each lesson's instructional plan in which students write in response to high-quality, complex texts. In each part of the Reading lesson students respond in writing to anchor and supporting texts in the Reader's and Writer's Journal. At the end of each Reading lesson students respond in writing to the Writing Workshop prompt that requires students to use text evidence to support ideas, claims, and opinions. Students have access to an Interactive Student Journal to produce digital texts as well.

Students revisit the anchor and supporting texts to write an argument/opinion, to write to inform/explain, or to write a narrative. Each module asks students to confront the text in Sleuth Work by “Making Their Case” as they draw on textual evidence to support claims and statements about the text. Each module also includes a longer Performance-Based Assessment writing task that digs deeper into the concepts. Students closely review anchor and supporting texts to form ideas and plan writing as they focus on the writing process. Students then present their writing to the class and create multimedia presentations through audio and video recording. The task involves writing, listening, and speaking skills and has students using technology. Module-level and lesson-level writing tasks provide structure to guide students through each step in the writing process. Students use anchor and supporting texts as mentor texts to examine traits common to the genre of text they are writing, e.g., personal narrative, or compare-and-contrast essay. Extended writing applications can also be found in the Scaffolded Strategies Handbook component for each grade level. Writing Routines provide notes that support English Language Learners as well as both struggling and accelerated writers. Extend activities explore an equal balance of narrative, informative/explanatory, and opinion/argument writing.

Students who become involved in the reading experience are truly capable of gaining information and worthwhile content. The choice of the selections and the design of the questions help to ensure that students will become actively involved in the reading process. The question's Level of Complexity measures a student's Depth of Knowledge (DOK). ReadyGEN annotates questions for the Close Read which allows teachers the ultimate flexibility with differentiating instruction. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • See the following Grade 2 Teacher's Guide Close Read Cite Text Evidence examples: Unit 3 Module B Lesson 7 page 223: CITE TEXT EVIDENCE Engage the class in a discussion about what you just read. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Assesses student proficiency using methods that are unbiased and accessible to all students. 	Assessing a variety of types of knowledge and levels of thinking, ReadyGEN assessment takes place in multiple formats, both pencil-and-paper and performance-based. At each grade level, students demonstrate their knowledge of content and ability to employ various strategies through tasks that evoke critical thinking in projects, presentations, written assignments, and discussion in response to deep-thinking questions. Informative/Explanatory writing, both assigned and in response to self-interest topics, requires students to engage in research from a variety of sources. Formal assessment includes quick-response, multiple-choice items, short written response items, and extended constructed response items in response to topical prompts. All items are in response to relevant standards and planned learning outcomes. ReadyGEN contains comprehensive ancillary assessment components. These assessments can be administered easily from the beginning of the year (Baseline Assessments) through each lesson or module of instruction (both Formative Assessment and the Performance Task) and at the end of each unit (End-of-Year Unit Tests). Assessments are also part of the student instruction (Independent Reading and Writing Practice, Reading and Writing Wrap-Up) and Teacher’s Guide routines (Monitor Progress). See the following examples: Grade 2 Assessment Book Teacher’s Manual overview pages T5–T23, T35–T38, T67–T70.
